House of the Very Island designers Marcus Hausleitner and Karin Krapfenbauer maintain their relaxed silhouette for the upcoming season, but go dark with the extraction of color from fall's palette. Crafting a stylized uniform with extreme casualness, the latest collection takes shape around interchangeable pieces of gray that find variety in organic clay prints. From hooded outerwear in various cuts to loose-fit pants, House of the Very Island is effortless in creating fall's ideal urban warrior.
